DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicant's amendment received on 12/01/08.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 4, 7-9, 12, 15-17, 19-22, 25, 26 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Doumani et al. (6,167,626 B1).

Doumani et al. discloses (Fig. 1-8) the invention including: a covering (e.g., 20), an adjustable residue guide (e.g., 68) for carrying away at least some of the machining residues through an outlet opening (e.g., 48) in a defined direction in accordance with the position of the residue guide wherein the residue guide having a pivot tube (e.g., 68) that is pivotable about a pivot axis (e.g., since the entire saw assembly is pivotable relative to a foot about a pivot axis to change a bevel angle and/or cutting depth, the tube can be reasonably considered to be also pivotable about the pivot axis since the tube is attached to the saw assembly); a feed tube (the interior wall of the cover 20), a rotary slide 56, a connection stub (the far end of the tube 68). Furthermore, at least some of the machining residues discharge inside the covering and through a lower end (e.g., col. 4 line 49) and outside the covering regardless the position of the guide (e.g., whether the saw assembly is straight or beveled). Also, the machine tool being designed to rotatably drive a tool about a rotation axis 14, whereby residues produced in operation are carried away by said pivot tube in a direction having a component along said rotation axis (the tube is capable of being bend in the direction having a component along said rotation axis); the feed tube has a longitudinal axis that is disposed substantially horizontally (the top interior wall of the cover 20).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 23-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lauckner et al. is cited to show related device.
